THE PRESS BOYS.

WHAT THEY HAVE TO

SAY ABOUT HOPKIN-

VILLE AND HER

PEOPLE.

430. GAINES IN PADUCAH ENTERPRISE.

There is no town or city in the State where there is more genuine hospitality than Hopkinsville, and there is no place that has improved at a greater rate than during the last few years. In June 1878 the Kentucky Press Association met there, and ever since that time we have been anxious for an opportunity to duplicate the pleasure of the 78 meeting, and last week we were gratified, as the Western Kentucky Press Association met there. True the attendance was not so large as in 78 but none of the hospitality of that date has been forsaken the people, but it is better in this respect. We had the pleasure while there of stopping at the pleasant and hospitable home of Mr. Nat Galtier, ex-Circuit Clerk of Christian county, and one of the leading members of the Hopkinsville bar. Mr. Galtier and his most estimable wife have our sincere thanks for their excellent entertainment.
While in Hopkinsville, in addition to attending to the business before the convention, we visited the public schools of the city and Bethel Female College, the former under the superintendence of Prof. Dietrich, and the latter conducted by Prof. J. W. Rust as Principal. The public school building is one of the finest and most substantial of any in the State having been built at the cost of some $20,000, and is without doubt in the hands of a competent and wise Superintendent. Bethel Female College is one of the most widely known and deservedly popular institutions of learning in the State, and is we are pleased to know enjoying great prosperity.

South Kentucky College under the management of Rev. R. C. Cave, is also a fine and prosperous school, and is a credit to its President, and an honor to the people of Hopkinsville.
On Thursday, the 1st inst., together with an invitation from Dr. Jas.
Rodman, the "gang" visited the Western Kentucky Lunatic Asylum, where we enjoyed one of the most beautiful and elegant dinners it has been our good fortune to test for so many days. Doctor Rodman and his most estimable wife, together with his daughter, Mrs. Southernland, and his son, Mr. Southernland, and Misses Canine and Lizzie Rodman, entertained the boys in such a way that they will not soon forget it.
We went through the different wards and departments of the asylum and found everything as neat and clean as could be, and right here we want to say that there is no man who is so well qualified to fill the position of Superintendent of this Institution as Dr. Rodman. He is a first class physician, a gentleman of the warmest impulses and withal a most excellent and high-spirited gentleman.
We remained at the Asylum until late (probably some of us would have remained indefinitely) in the afternoon, when we were driven (we rode in carriages) back to the city and were given a Hop at the Court House where we enjoyed the may pole until the first of the morning. On Friday morning we reluctantly turned our backs on the scenes of the two days enjoyment for our respective homes, but not to forget the pleasures of the occasion—for that we can never do—Hunter Wood, Col. Morris, Sam Gaines and John Payne, of the New Era, Charlie Meacham and Will Wilgus, of the South Kentuckian and Messrs. Miller and Cole, of the Republic, have established enviable reputations as gentlemen and entertaining hosts—to one and all, gentlemen, we return our thanks.

Prof. G. J. Norwood, of the Russellville Herald-Enterprise is the handsome editor in the First Appellate District and is very fond of dancing.

Grey Woodson is the "pun hater" of the "gang" and never loses an opportunity to show his contempt for those who indulge in such nonsense.
Charlie Meacham's scintillations of wit are only equaled by the lambeau-le and inimitable "smiles" of his handsome young partner in the management of the Kentuckian.

Sam Gaines has withdrawn from the fraternity of the State, but the boys will never forget that he is "one of them" even though, he is not in the harness.

Len Faxon, of the Evening News is not the prettiest man in the lot but he hasn't any superiors as a "stricker" but for Dr. Rodman our carcase would now be where John Brown laid.

Hunter Wood enjoys a good joke and tells them well himself, but when Charlie Robert takes up the cue, he immediately deposits his owl er-margine.

J. T. Gossell, of the Leitfield Sunbeam is the best speaker in the wholey gang, and is also very popular with the ladies.

Frank Bristow of the Elkton Register, may be a little odd and all that, but he is the best fellow in the country.

L. W. Coleman, of the Henderson Herald, is the great and most am-able of the "gang."

Walker, of the Crittenden Press is as bashful as a school girl but as clever as he is bashful.

Col. Jno. D. Morris, the new editor-in-chief of the New Era is one of the finest old gentlemen we have ever met, and will make the New Era fairly hum.

COLMAN IN HENDERSON REPORTER.

The semi-annual meeting of the Western Kentucky Press Association met at Hopkinsville last Wednesday and Thursday.

The meeting was held at the old large frame house on small planing "grow," that is to say the miniature and the initiatory meeting held at Madisonville in January last was worked proportions that will eventually take in the whole press from Shak. river to the Mississippi. The membership even at this time comprises many of the most earnest working papers in the State, and by a united action they will be able to wield a powerful influence in behalf of the general good. The citizens of Hopkinsville, as is customary with them, gave the W. K. P. A. a cordial welcome and Dr. Rodman in charge of Western Lunatic Asylum was particularly agreeable. The members of the Hopkinsville press left nothing undone to make the meeting both pleasant and profitable.

The visits to the colleges and schools of the city were greatly enjoyed and the final wind up, in the general turn out to a magnificent ball given in honor of the meeting at the Court House was certainly one of the prettiest and most enjoyable features of the meeting. Hopkinsville is a growing, thrifty place and no city or town which we have ever visited is more deserving. They have the best city, the finest schools, and everything necessary to make it a city greatly to be desired as a comfortable, happy home. The business proceedings of the meeting will be found in another column.

NONWOOD IN HERALD-ENTERPRISE.

The Western Kentucky Press Association met in Hopkinsville last Wednesday and Thursday. A more delightful place for the meeting could not have been chosen. Everything went off as smoothly as could be desired. The entertainment was done for the entertainment of the visitors, who, under the care of the beautiful (and accomplished) editors of South Kentuckian and New Era, with Capt. Sam M. Gaines, the discoverer of Hancock, as chief Chaplain, let no hospitality escape. The first business meeting was held on Wednesday afternoon. In the morning two of the publishers of "alleged papers" visited the Tobacco Exchange, sending ahead copies of their papers duly Xed. But when they interviewed the gentleman with a free voice, he said he was not exchanging tobacco with newspapers, papers that day, and refused to do so on any other day. He was selling.
They then proposed to purchase a hoghead of the stuff, but as the seller refused to let them have it at clubs and "take it out in advertising," they left in disgust. We were our ordinary contemporaries against hoping for an exchange with the Tobacco Exchange—the name is a delusion and a snare. After dinner the convention met and resolved to adjourn, and visit Bethel Female College. President Rust received the visiting party with the warmest of welcomes. He showed them
on any other day. He was selling.
